IMMIGRATION By Fr. Rick Bolte

There are many things that tend to polarize us as a nation; immigration is one of them. We hear immigrants described as criminals because many have come into our country illegally. We also hear highlighted anecdotal events implying greater criminality. We hear they cost tax payers money as they seek social benefits. On the other hand, we are told many of these people take jobs other Americans would not want and they are an essential part of our economy. We hear that the crime rate among immigrants is actually less than it is among citizens. We hear they pay income and SS taxes but will not be eligible for their benefits.

In writing this, I am not proposing to sort out those differences. However, with the election of Pope Leo, many have wondered about the church's position. Some have tried to relegate it to nothing more than a political opinion.

For the church to have a teaching that is in opposition to one political party or another is not new. For many years the church was known to be on the side of workers and their ability to unionize. More recently and ongoing is the church's teaching opposing abortion. The church's teaching on immigration is neither new nor a political opinion. In every case, the church calls us to respect human life from conception to natural death including living life with human dignity.

In the Old Testament we might recall the story of Abraham hosting three travelers. Turned out they were God's messengers telling him of the coming birth of Isaac. This is contrast in the next story where God tells Abraham of the coming destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah because of their lack of hospitality. In the New Testament, Jesus tells us to love our neighbor including the Samaritan (an enemy) and to love others as He loves us.

Many Catholics suspect the current Pope Leo XIV picked his name wanting to follow the example of Pope Leo XIII. Leo XIII is known for writing "Rerum Novarum" (1891) in which he states: "'Rights must be religiously respected wherever they exist, and it is the duty of the public authority to prevent and to punish injury, and to protect everyone in the possession of his own. Still, when there is question of defending the rights of individuals, the poor and badly off have a claim to especial consideration.'" (#37) "Noone would exchange his country for a foreign land if his own afforded him the means of living a decent and happy life." (#47).

Pope Pius XII, Apostolic Constitution "Exsul Familia Nazarethana" (1952) writes, "'The migrant Holy Family of Nazareth, fleeing into Egypt, is the archetype of every refugee family. Jesus, Mary and Joseph, living in exile in Egypt to escape the fury of an evil king, are, for all times and all places, the models and protectors of every migrant, alien and refugee of whatever kind who, whether compelled by fear of persecution or by want, is forced to leave his native land, his beloved parents and relatives, his close friends, and to seek a foreign soil.'" (Introduction)

Saint Pope John XXIII, "Mater et Magistra" (1961) writes, "'[If] the whole structure and organization of an economic system is such as to compromise human dignity, to lessen a man's sense of responsibility or rob him of opportunity for exercising personal initiative, then such a system, we maintain, is altogether unjust—no matter how much wealth it produces, or how justly and equitably such wealth is distributed.” (#83) “The solidarity of the human race and Christian brotherhood demand the elimination as far as possible of these discrepancies. With this object in view, people all over the world must co-operate actively with one another in all sorts of ways, so as to facilitate the movement of goods, capital and men from one country to another” (#155) He further states in “Pacem in Terris” (1963), ““Every human being has the right to freedom of movement and of residence within the confines of his own state. When there are just reasons for it, he must be permitted to emigrate to other countries and to take up residence there. The fact that he is a citizen of a particular state does not deprive him of membership to the human family, nor of citizenship in that universal society, the common, world-wide fellowship of men.” (#25) “... [O]f its very nature, civil authority exists, not to confine its people within the boundaries of their nation, but rather to protect, above all else, the common good of the entire human family.” (#98)

From Vatican Council II, Pastoral Constitution on the Church in the Modern World “Gaudium Et Spes” (1965) we read, ““In our times a special obligation binds us to make ourselves the neighbor of every person without exception, and of actively helping him when he comes across our path, whether he be an old person abandoned by all, a foreign laborer unjustly looked down upon, a refugee,...or a hungry person who disturbs our conscience by recalling the voice of the Lord, ‘As long as you did it for one of these the least of my brethren, you did it for me’” (Matt. 25:40). (#27)

Pope Paul VI, “Populorum Progressio” (1967) writes, ““We cannot insist too much on the duty of giving foreigners a hospitable reception. It is a duty imposed by human solidarity and by Christian charity, and it is incumbent upon families and education institutions in the host nations...[T]hey should be welcomed in the spirit of brotherly love” (#67) “Emigrant workers should also be given a warm welcome. Their living conditions are often inhuman, and they must scrimp on their earnings in order to send help to their families who have remained behind in their native land in poverty.” (#69)

Saint Pope John Paul II, “Laborem Exercens” (1981) writes, ““Man has the right to leave his native land for various motives--and also the right to return--in order to seek better conditions of life in another country. This fact is certainly not without difficulties of various kinds. Above all it generally constitutes a loss for the country which is left behind. It is the departure of a person who is also a member of a great community united by history, tradition and culture; and that person must begin life in the midst of another society united by a different culture and very often by a different language. In this case, it is the loss of a subject of work, whose efforts of mind and body could contribute to the common good of his own country, but these efforts, this contribution, are instead offered to another society which in a sense has less right to them than the person’s country of origin... “Every possible effort should be made to ensure that it may bring benefit to the emigrant’s personal, family and social life, both for the country to which he goes and the country which he leaves. In this area much depends on just legislation, in particular with regard to the rights of workers. It is obvious that the question of just legislation enters into the context of the present considerations, especially from the point of view of these rights...(23)

Catechism ¶2241: “The more prosperous nations are obliged, to the extent they are able, to welcome the foreigner in search of the security and means of livelihood which he cannot find in his country of origin.

Please forgive the length of this article. I wanted to give as much as I dare a rich sampling of the church’s teaching regarding immigrants. As Catholics we are called to not get caught up in the political hysteria but to truly be champions of human dignity without exception.

The tabernacle. Did you know that tabernacles have been in use for about 3,475 years? I can't even comprehend that amount of time. That's like going back 124 generations in your family according to HowManyGenerations.com.

Tabernacles can be traced back to the Mosaic Covenant in the Old Testament. Made on Mount Sinai, this covenant gave the Law and construction of the tabernacle as a place where God would manifest His presence among his people. The tabernacle was a physical representation of God's desire to be with Israel. Also known as the Old Covenant, it is a conditional covenant. This means God's blessings and protection were based on the Israelites obedience to the law He gave them. If they obeyed the law there would be blessings, if they disobeyed, there would be curses. Even when the Israelites fail, God's commitment to them remains. That IS love!

The Tabernacle originally was built in the wilderness about 1450 BC by the Israelites. They were commanded to build it so God could "dwell among them" (Exodus 26:46). They began using it after they were freed from Egyptian slavery and continued using it during their 40 years in the desert while conquering the land of Canaan. It was the first temple dedicated to God and the first resting place of the Ark of the Covenant.

Our current tabernacle was a generous gift from a deacon during our church renovation. He knew some of the Sisters of Notre Dame up in Kenwood and learned of an archive of old sacred vessels that they kept and protected. He was given access to the archive after sharing his desire to find one for our newly updated and refreshed sanctuary. He found one that he knew would be just perfect for St. Timothy, made a donation and it was brought to its new home here in Union. Somewhere along the way it was actually dropped and needed repair (not by the deacon!). Lucky for us it was able to be refreshed and repaired in time for the first Mass in our renovated space.

Today, the tabernacle in our church is a reminder of the covenant God made with His people and His continual presence among us. Just THINK OF THAT! Lord Jesus is present bodily and substantially and lives in the tabernacle in the midst of our catholic community. HE CHOOSES TO BE HERE—with you, with me—with us. Are you worthy of that? I'm not sure I am.

Get to Know our Newest Staff Members

Hi! I'm Ashley Rehkamp. I've been married for 13 years, and my husband, George, and I have three awesome kids—Mabel (11), Georgie "G" (8), and Owen (6). We live on a farm with two horses, too many chickens to count, and our sweet pup, Marggo. I've been teaching for 13 years, and for the past seven, I've had the joy of being part of the Saint Timothy Catholic School community—not just as a middle school teacher, but also as a parishioner and parent. I have a bachelor's degree in middle school education from Thomas More University and a master's in leadership from the University of the Columbians. I'm currently working on a second master's degree to continue growing in my role. I'm so excited to step into the role of principal here at St. Timothy. I love working with students of all ages, though middle schoolers definitely have a special place in my heart. I feel incredibly blessed to be part of such a faith-filled, supportive community!

I am Pam Ollier, the new Assistant Principal and Preschool Director at St. Timothy School. I have been married to my husband, Dana, for 33 years. We have three children who bring joy and laughter every day. Katie (31, who is engaged to Tony), Thomas (28) and Michael (25). All of our children are very close and that allows us to spend so much valuable time together. We have lived in Union for over 25 years and will forever call this our home. We have a dog, a cat, three chickens that I hatched with my students last year, and lots of fish and turtles in our numerous aquariums and ponds. I love to garden and spend time outdoors. My education journey has spanned over 35 years. I spent the majority of my teaching career at Gray Middle School teaching 8th grade math and science. Retirement came calling and I relaxed for 6 months before returning to teaching in a long term substitute position and I realized that I wanted to return to the classroom. I began a new journey at St. Timothy Middle School and I can not be happier. I have made such amazing friendships with the staff and students at St. Timothy. I taught science for two years until I was granted an amazing opportunity to work with Ashley Rehkamp as her assistant principal. Ms. Rehkamp and I have spent many hours together planning for a great first year. We have an awesome staff that will devote every resource available to provide your child with a great school year and an excellent education. We are excited to guide St. Timothy to the future. Ms. Geers has left a lasting impact on our school and we have big shoes to fill, but with the support of the parish and our families, we can continue to thrive and grow and offer a first class education.

Jenna Kemper serves as the Director of Religious Education and has passion for youth, faith and community. She has been a dedicated parishioner of Saint Timothy Church for the past 22 years. As a mother of three children raised in the faith and the PSR program, Jenna's commitment to both spiritual formation and community involvement runs deep. With a degree in Integrated Strategic Communications from the University of Kentucky, Jenna brings decades of experience in marketing, branding, client relations, and nonprofit leadership. Her career includes roles in public relations, communications consulting, entrepreneurship in photography, and leadership in the health and wellness industry through network marketing. Jenna has a heart for service—founding the nonprofit NKYSwims to help underserved youth access swim lessons, leading a grassroots effort to save the Florence Aquatic Center, and serving as Vice-Mayor on the Florence City Council. Her volunteerism extends across numerous school and community organizations. At Saint Timothy, Jenna has served as President of Mothers of Preschoolers (MOPS) and has been part of the FAMILIA program for eight years. She has served on the Christ Renews His Parish team, and supported the parish through ongoing committee work and outreach initiatives. She is passionate about building strong faith-based communities and supporting the spiritual growth of families.

I am Jeremiah Barth the new Assistant Director of Religious education at Saint Timothy parish. I and the D.R.E. are working on improving our youth ministry to bring the youth of our parish closer to God. I've been a parishioner at Saint Timothy all of the 20 years of my life and have worked closely with the past youth ministers and D.R.E. I hope to make our programs even greater than they have been in the past.

OCIA TEAM

Deacon Kevin Cranley, Debbi Cranley, Mark Arnett, and Maureen Cirillo

OCIA - What is That?

By Debbi Cranley, OCIA Coordinator

OCIA, the Order of Christian Initiation of Adults, is the process formally known as RCIA, the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults. But why the change? The name change is primarily a translation update from the original Latin text. The term "order" emphasizes that Christian initiation is not a single event or "rite," but a series of rites reflecting a continuing journey of faith formation and spiritual growth. The program itself will continue as usual here at St. Timothy. (Except that we get better every year!)

OCIA is a process of conversion involving a series of classes that helps to prepare adults to receive the Sacraments of Initiation which include Baptism, Confirmation, and Eucharist.

I remember being a little apprehensive about going through the process of becoming Catholic. It took me many years to finally make the decision and when did, I loved it! I had such a great experience, and I keep coming back for more! I, along with the Team, want to help others have that same joyous experience. That is our goal here at St. Timothy.

Our classes begin on Sept. 7th and continue until Easter. Who are these classes for? Anyone who is interested in becoming Catholic, those who may have been away from the Church for a while and parishioners who would just like a little refresher of the faith – all are welcome!

If you would like more information, please call the parish office or email me (debbi@cranley.net). I am happy to help!

The “lazy, hazy days of summer.”

By Michael Vogt

Summer. A time to relax by the ocean or the pool. Time to contemplate chirping cicadas and the buzzing bees. You’ve binge watched as many movies and TV shows as you can stand. You find yourself tired of the Internet, frustrated with politics, impatient for football season (and school) to start. You may feel that life is less fulfilling than you would like.

The good news is, there is a solution, and you don’t have to give up the beach or the cicadas or the bees.

Saint Vincent de Paul has a multitude of ways that you can use your time and talents to enrich your life, and the lives of others, for just a few hours a month.

“Whoever is generous to the poor lends to the Lord, and he will repay him for his deed.” Proverbs 19:17

As a St. Tim SVDP Volunteer you’ll find that opportunities abound.

SVDP Food Pantry

Volunteers are needed to help stock the shelves and prepare bags of groceries for those who need food. Times are flexible, the work is easy, and the company is fun and inspiring.

SVDP Call Center

The SVDP Call Center is located at the St. Vincent de Paul Thrift Store in Crestview Hills. Every day an average of 60 neighbors call St. Vincent de Paul for assistance. We need Volunteers to return calls and assist people with the application process.

Call Managers

Call managers take referrals from the Call Center, enter information into our computer system, and distribute assignments to SVDP Volunteers. Call managers Volunteer one day a week for a few hours.

Home Visits

We have Volunteer opportunities to engage directly with our neighbors who are seeking assistance. We assess their situation and provide direct assistance as well as referrals to other community agencies. Volunteers meet them in their homes, or at St. Tim’s pantry, depending on the situation. We provide training and always visit in pairs. During these visits, we offer vouchers to our SVDP thrift stores for furniture, clothing, and housewares, and to the extent that our financial resources permit, we help people with rent or utilities - or gas money to get to work or to the doctor.

Thrift Stores

Volunteer help is needed each week to sort donations, create displays, and straighten and stock shelves at our four St. Vincent de Paul thrift stores. Of course, your donations of clothing, toys, housewares, and furniture are always appreciated.

Holiday Volunteer Opportunities

Our seasonal events would be not possible without the Volunteers who donate their time, treasure, and talent. These events require help before, during, and after to ensure everything runs smoothly.

Coat Distributions: Volunteers are needed for registration, sorting and stocking, as well as assisting families as they pick out winter coats. Coats are distributed at the Thanksgiving food distribution and at convenient locations.

Thanksgiving Food Distribution: Volunteers are needed to sort, bag, and carry food. This event is held the week-end before Thanksgiving at St. Tim’s food pantry.

Christmas Food and Present Distribution: Like Thanksgiving, Volunteers are needed to sort and distribute Christmas toys for children, as well as sort, bag and carry food. This event is held the weekend before Christmas.

“But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him?” 1 John 3:17

So, we’re looking for people with a little time to share helping their neighbors – people like... YOU.

If you feel that God is calling you to action, contact Debbie Curtin, 513/532.6958, or Bill Anderson, 412/295.3441.

Oh the wonder of it all!
When even the youngest of the team wants to help.

Good Morning Jamaica

Morning mass with a view only God can provide.

Such Excitement!

Ms. Johanna was so excited to meet Father Michael and the group leader Pat today. She was filled with such joy as she greeted them.

Morning Devotions

The children loved hearing the story of Noah's Ark this morning. They were excited to answer questions and be involved with the team. The ladies let their light shine as they poured into the children.

Sharing God's Love

Care Package delivery in the community of Refuge. These are much needed blessings in this community. Many families are still struggling to make ends meet after COVID and for the team to be able to provide these packages is a blessing beyond words.

A Church Transformed

What a change the team brought to Refuge Catholic Mission Church. The church was in need of a facelift and the team did just that. The church members couldn't have been more thrilled with the transformation. They said our "new church is beautiful".

Day 2

School ministry is in full swing this morning. Stories and friendship bracelets have kept the children memorized.

The excitement on their faces when we arrived this morning touched the teams heart and brought them so much excitement to return to the classrooms today.

Showing Love In A Tangible Way

The team has spent this week distributing 25 care packages that have blessed so many.

Blessed Beyond Measure

The team spent some time visiting with the family that lived in this home. The mother had open heart surgery and has had a hard time with her recovery.

She was so blessed by their prayers for her. When we were done visiting she offered neezberries off of her tree for the team to try.
